

Department of Microbiology - Microbial Society Club

Objectives:

- To provide quality education and hands-on training in microbiology.
- To promote research and innovation among students and faculty.
- To build industry and clinical collaborations for experiential learning.
- To create awareness on public health and microbial applications.
- To mentor students for careers in academia, industry and healthcare.