NSS volunteers distribute seed balls; plan for greener environment in district in 2 years

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Vellore

STUDENTS attached to the NSS unit of the Auxilium college here have launched a project to make the district green in their own way. On Monday, over 500 students began distributing seed balls to the public and fellow students.

The event was inaugurated by the college principal Dr Regina Mary. This is the first time the NSS unit has taken up the green project in collaboration with a local NGO, Samarasam Trust, led by Anbarasan. The trust has helped in the preparation of the seed balls using the native seeds of neem and pungan, said NSS programme officer Dr Amutha.

"We are planning to distribute around one lakh seed balls every year to locals as well as to students through the NSS so that they could throw the seeds to 'grow green' in their neighbourhood," she said. The project was targeted to sensitise and involve students on environmental issues, added Amutha.

One of the students said they would also be distributing the seed balls in places of worship in and around the district as prasadam for a long-term benefit. The NSS unit also plans to throw seed balls in Chenganatham, Palamathi and Sathuvachari hills, as part of the project. Greening of the hills will help the city in bringing down its temperature during summer.

In the third week of October, when students would complete their exams, the NSS unit would resume the distribution of seed balls to accomplish the target of one lakh seed balls this year, said Amutha. The project would go on for the next two years to complete the distribution of 3 lakh seed balls and was expected to have a considerable impact on the environment of the district, she added.

Anbarasan of the Samarpanam Trust said the trust had been helping the students in preparing seed balls at the college campus. "We provided the seeds and gave the know-how on preparing the seed balls," he said. Though we couldn't launch the project last year due to various reasons, from this year, we would be able to achieve our target," he added.

Dr. Anu Rose Professor, from Community Health Department, CHAD, CMC Vellore, focused on the importance of hygiene especially during the menstrual cycle. She was very simple and answered patiently to the students. She created awareness on Health and Cancer in women. She advised the Volunteers to take care of their health and to give importance to it.

Dr. Arjunan Founder and President, Putru Maharishi, Siddha, Centre organized Herbal Exhibition. The medicinal plants common name, Botanical name and its uses were given under the plant itself which was very useful. Yogamudhras were taught to the volunteers to improve concentration, memory, to cure headache and for the good health. The Expert team answered to the question asked by the volunteers. Hair oil and Face Pack preparation was also taught to the students.

07.02.2019

Mr. Subramani State Treasurer, TNSF made Science subject very easy and interesting with his magical tricks and experiments. Students realized that Science is simple and it is everything. Mr. K. Senthamil Selvan explained what is meant by organic farming, how it is done and what are the benefits of it. He also added the harmful effects of chemical fertilizers and pesticides. He stressed the importance of food chain and food web. In their farm they don't use any type of insecticides. By the end of the session the students were impressed and wanted to do organic farming.

MASS BOOK READING CAMP

Books are a rich source of information. Reading a book can relieve stress better than taking a walk and listening to music. Reading improves ones vocabulary and writing skills. Books are excellent sources of recreation. Keeping in mind all the benefits of book reading a Mass Book Reading Camp was organized by the NSS Volunteers in the Don Bosco Tribal Development Centre for more than 100 boys of different age groups. Each one was given a book and a NSS volunteer sat beside the boy to help in reading. Fr. Majella served as the Chief Guest. Prizes were given by Mr. Boopalan, State Treasurer TNSF and Mr. Senthamil Selvan State Executive member TNSF.

Dr. Senthamil Selvan
